Address on Internal Economy Given by Captain Helmer — Members Must Pass Examination

Yesterday afternoon a very interesting lecture was given on Internal Economy by Capt. Helmer. This is the first of a series of lectures to be delivered to the C.O.T.C. on various topics relative to their work. There was quite a large attendance at the lecture, 425 Sherbrooke W. where the lecture was held. The orderly room was used as a lecture hall, and this room was filled. Capt. Helmer gave the lecture in a form suitable for taking notes, as all members will be expected to pass an examination on the subjects taught in the lectures. He divided the work into sections as under:

Section I.—The duties of a private soldier. These are to be classified under four heads: (1) Subordination to

McGILL WILL PRESENT STRONG LINE-UP FOR FIRST LEAGUE GAME WITH QUEEN'S

Six of Last Year's Players Will Be on Red and White Team To-day

YESTERDAY'S PRACTICE VERY SNAPPY AND SATISFACTORY

Tri-colour Have Well-balanced Team—Hazlett in Fine Form—Officials for To-day's Game

The McGill team had a strenuous practice yesterday in which every sort of work was done, except that which would have been incurred if they had lined up against the seconds.

Brophy was kicking well as were all the backs. The catching was also much improved over the class displayed earlier in the week.

All the work done was carried out with more snap than has been the custom this year. The team seems to have, on the eve of the first game, acquired the ginger which ought to characterize the play of any team which expects to land a championship or to retain one. The fans were very pleased with the snappiness showed in the practice and are confident of the team's winning to-day.

Shaughnessy is practically sure to play the same team to-day as lined up in yesterday's work-out. On this line-up will be six of last year's team while several of the other men have had experience in senior company.

On the back division will be three very strong men. Paisley will be playing right half at which position he started last season. Brophy will be at centre half and he, although a new man on the team has travelled in senior company before, having played with the Ottawa Interprovincial team. At left half will be George Draper, who it is predicted will be the best half-back in the Intercollegiate this season.

Montgomery will play quarter and although this is quite a change from his last year's position at centre scrum he is able to direct the team wisely, having played this difficult position while at St. Andrew's College school.

In the scrimmage will be two new men and one of last year's team, but one who is new to his position. De Muth is one of these players, he was at inside wing for the second last season and has been putting up a good brand of football this fall. Greene is another of these men. He was a very strong man on the H.M.C. team and can be counted upon to do very well. Jimmy Lee is a veteran as far as football at McGill is concerned, but a new man in the scrimmage. Jimmy was captain of last year's team and played flying wing.

The wing line will be much stronger than it appeared. Shaughnessy would be able to make it at the first of this year. The inside will be Ross and Hughes. The former is an ex-St. Andrew's College school player and has been showing up well this season. He is a big man and a strong one. Hughes is a new man but big husky one and to football like a duck to water, and is now playing a very strong game. Lemay and Waterous will be the middle wings and both can be relied upon.

Shaughnessy is another of last year's champions and has been tearing great gaps in the second line. He is certain to be one of the heaviest scorers in the Intercollegiate Union this fall. Lemay is a new man but big husky one and a very hard worker.

At outside will be George Laing and Jeffrey. Nothing is necessary about the former, his name is connected with so many splendid performances. Jeffrey is a new man, and has up to this year played American Rugby. Norm Williamson will be at flying wing and he is a good tackler and full of aggressive tactics, coupled with speed and weight. The Queen's team is if anything stronger than last year. SIX

MESSAGE SENT FROM QUEEN'S

Tri-colour Thought Campus Was Flooded

JOKE WORKS WELL

C.N.R. Tunnel Blamed for Supposed Submergence

The following telegram was received from the President of the Queen's University Rugby Association, by Jimmy Lee, the president of the McGill Rugby Club, on Thursday night late.

Kingston, Ont.

"Secretary McGill Rugby Football Club, Montreal.

"We are informed that McGill Football field is very wet and in some places covered with water. We here-by inform you that unless the field is in fair condition we shall refuse to play upon it. We suggest you procure another field.

J. F. McDonald, President Queen's University Football Association.

The McGill football executive could not understand what was meant by the telegram, as the campus is very dry and hard, there having been no rain for several days, as for the idea of getting new grounds to play upon such a thing was out of the question. Whoever informed the Queen's Football Club about the campus being under water was evidently having a nice little practical joke at the expense of the Queen's Club, and they fell for it beautifully.

Investigation last night led to the knowledge that the information which had reached the ears of the tri-colour executive was to the effect that some work connected with the Canadian Northern Tunnel had flooded the McGill Campus.

Whether the Queen's people believed that an underground river had suddenly spouted up on the peace and quiet of the campus, or whether they believed that the reservoir on Pine Avenue had been so shaken by the blasting in the tunnel as to have big enough waves on it to dash over its sides, is not known; but one thing is certain that whoever started the joke certainly has the laugh on the Queen's executive.

New grounds have been procured and the game will be played as advertised.

STUDENTS TO PREPARE MEALS FOR VISITORS

Princeton Believes in Economy in Meals for Harvard Visitors

Arrangements for accommodation of visitors to Princeton on big game days have recently been organized. Under the supervision of the Bureau of Student Self Help, very complete plans have been made whereby a number of people can secure a good, wholesome meal, well-served for a moderate price. Although the management will take care of a great many people according to the plan, they have made it their aim to serve one person well rather than two people poorly.

Cream Tomato Soup.
Celery.
Roast Beef, Mashed Potatoes, Peas.
Apple Pie, Coffee, Tea.

will be the menu which will be held to very strictly. Every effort will be bent toward insuring every person served promptly, quick service, and plenty of well-cooked food.

10.30 a.m.—Queen's II. versus McGill II. on the Campus.
11.00 a.m.—Elections in Med. '17.

ELECTRICAL STUDENTS ORGANIZE THEIR CLUB

Meetings Will Be Held Every Two Weeks

The Electrical club held their first meeting for the current session yesterday afternoon in Room 37. Prof. Christie called the meeting to order and spoke for a few minutes. He said that he hoped that this, their sixth year of existence would be a great success. The object of the club was to gather together the electrical students outside of the regular hours of the course to discuss, and have papers presented upon, important current electrical topics. He offered his services and said he was sure any member of the staff would be glad to give any assistance towards the furthering of these aims.

Mr. Strathy was appointed chairman of the meeting and nominations were called for the officers for the coming year.

The following were then elected: Hon. President, Dr. Herd; Hon. vice-president, Prof. Gray; Counsellors, D. J. Hadley, F. B. Winter, J. Summer-skell, L. A. Strathy, H. J. McLeod, J. A. Coote; Secretary, R. Sherlock; Treasurer, H. Dawson.

The decision, as to whether the meetings would be addressed by outsiders or by the members of the club itself, was left for the executive to decide. As usual the voting power in the club will be restricted to 3rd and 4th year men but others interested in the club's work may also join. A fee of $1 must be paid in order to join. The arrangements for the next meeting were left for the officers to arrange and the meeting adjourned.

COLUMBIA TO HAVE PLAYWRITING COURSE

For Students Who Desire to Write Plays

Of special interest to students with dramatic talent or tendencies is a course in Dramatic composition, not listed in the regular announcement, which is being given by the department of Extension Teaching in Columbia University for the benefit of those who desire to write plays. In the beginning of the course each student is required to submit the scenario of a play to be written during the year. These scenarios are later criticized with reference to their suitability for the stage; and the manuscripts prepared from them are then analyzed from the point of view of the dramatist. An interesting phase of the course is the taking up of recent and current plays with a view to ascertaining the causes of their success or failure.

TWO HUNDRED ROOTERS OUT

Snappy Practice Held at Strathcona Hall Yesterday

NO CHEAP SEATS NOW

Noise-makers Do Not Get Usual Reduction This Year

A snappy practice of the Rooters' Club was held in Strathcona Hall yesterday afternoon. About two hundred students exerted their lung power in singing songs and giving yells. There was no lack of enthusiasm. Shaughnessy's exhortation seemed to have made an impression.

A lot of new songs were tried. Some of these new parodies are very clever and go with a lot of vim. The students showed more of last year's feeling and the yells resounded through the building as Cheer Leader Masson beat time. Messrs. Gibbs and Stanley, of the band, accompanied the piano, on their cornets. The whole band will be on hand to-day to lead in the singing.

Unfortunately, the football club have not been able to reduce the price of Rooters' Club tickets, but the central portion of the bleachers will be reserved for the rooters. It will be necessary in order to sit in this reserved section to either wear a red or white sweater and carry McGill colours. All rooters (and this should include every undergraduate except the members of the 1st team) should be on hand at two minutes past two with a copy of the "Daily" in which the Rooters' songs are printed.

Systematic and organized rooting from the side lines is of second importance only to the playing of the team, and to it the men look for a great deal of support. The men who fight for Old McGill on the gridiron are deserving of all the encouragement that can be given them. Come out this afternoon and don't spare that voice of yours. We must have that game!

MEDICAL SOPHOMORES ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

Mr. A. S. Lamb, University Physical Director, Made President

Yesterday afternoon the Sophomore class in Medicine elected its officers under the supervision of Mr. Ritchie, last year's president of Med. '17.

There was a very large attendance of enthusiastic members. Through the officers were keenly contested harmony prevailed.

Mr. Lorne C. Montgomery was the first man nominated for the presidency, but owing to heavy course and other demands upon his time, he requested his name withdrawn. In accordance with his desire this was done.

Others were nominated and the result of the ballot declared Mr. A. S. Lamb elected.

Mr. Lamb is the popular Physical Director of the University and the proud father of Med. '17 class baby.

Further balloting showed the following men elected to the offices indicated: Vice-president, F. J. Scully, B. A.; secretary, D. Stoughton; treasurer, G. R. Nugent, B.A.

Last year Med. '17 had the largest registration of any class in medicine for many years, about 110 enrolled there, most of whom have returned.

OLD BURNSIDE CREEK DID NOT CAUSE SINKAGE

Union Will Soon Be Jacked Up—Clay Belt Underneath Surface Gradually Slipping Away

The work of elevating the McGill Union building to its former high position is proceeding just as rapidly as two gangs of men, working on twelve-hour shifts, can manage it. Each of these gangs consist of twelve men and two foremen, and until the work is well in hand operations will be carried on day and night.

It has not yet been determined how much the building has sunk as the superintendent is still unable to use the level for the purpose of finding out.

Three blocks of stone have been removed from the bottom corner of the second floor to make a place for a large pin under which a heavy brace, will be slipped and then the whole affair will be jacked up from the ground; the ground and top floors will be treated in the same manner so that the foundation may be more easily raised and rebuilt underneath.

The excavations are down to the level of the basement floor, which is as low as they are to be carried. These pits extend for about six feet from each corner.

Owing to the very hard clay which has been encountered work has been rather slow; this clay has almost the appearance of grey rock comes out in heavy chunks.

The foundation of the building is not placed on piles, as was supposed, but is resting directly on this belt of clay. In this part of the city, there are about three such belts of clay. These belts are slipping gradually so that any foundations resting on the clay are very often subject to such drops as the Union foundation has taken.

The report that the old Burnside Creek had something to do with the sinkage of the building is entirely erroneous as the creek ran near Strathcona Hall and not under the corner of the Union.

The blasting in the C.N.R. tunnel may have had something to do with the sinkage but it is more than probable that the only effect this blasting had was to accelerate the movement of the clay belt.

Old Country Knitters are acknowledged to be the best, all the world over. For this reason we employ them to make "CEETEE" Underclothing.

"CEETEE" Underclothing is knitted on special machines entirely different in every way from ordinary machines.

It is the only Underclothing made on this style of machine in Canada.

All "CEETEE" Underclothing is made from the softest, finest Australian Merino Wool only. This wool is put through a thorough treatment of combing and scouring that removes every particle of foreign matter and leaves every strand as soft and clean as humanly possible.

"CEETEE" Underclothing is so soft that it will not irritate even an infant's skin. All joints are knitted together (not sewn) making each garment practically one piece. It has no rough spots. Every garment is fashioned automatically during the knitting to fit the human form, thus rendering it comfortable, easy to wear, and perfect fitting.

These are the reasons why "CEETEE" Underclothing is in a class by itself, and is worn by the best people. Sold by the Best Dealers.

BASKETBALL CLUB ORGANISES FIRST PRACTICE NEXT WEEK

Prospects Bright—Big Turnout Expected — Four Teams to be Chosen—George Kennedy President

A large number of basketball enthusiasts turned out to the initial meeting of the McGill Basketball Club last night in Strathcona Hall. From the proceedings at the meeting an excellent season in every respect seems to be forthcoming for the club. It is expected that upwards of one hundred players will appear on the floor at the first practice, and from these will be picked the usual four teams.

The intermediate team, which will be a sort of a consolation quintet. All senior games and practices will be held at the Central Y. M. C. A., on Drummond street. The arrangements have not been finally completed as yet, but will be announced by Walter Lambie in the course of a few days. The first practice is called for Saturday, October 18th.

In all probability Dr. Smith, physical director of the Central Y, will be engaged to coach the team. If he consents the boys will be well fixed as he knows the game from A to Z. The Junior teams will be accommodated at the M. A. A. A. gymnasium. The three Junior teams had a very successful season last year, winning the championships of their respective leagues.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, George Kennedy; Treasurer, Charlie McTavish; Freshman representative, J. Ferguson.

SECONDS WILL PLAY GAME THIS MORNING

Queens II Heavy But None Too Strong—Buckley Will Kick for McGill

McGill seconds play their first game this morning and must defeat their opponents, if they hope to have a chance of making a trip to Toronto this fall.

The second team, under the very able coaching of Sine McEvenue, has been doing wonderfully, and is expected to take to-day's game without much trouble. Their back division was going splendidly on Thursday against the seniors, and in Buckley they have a splendid kicker. The other two halves are fast men and the half line should acquit itself well. Armour at quarter is light, but nevertheless, is playing a steady heady game, placing his on-side kicks to perfection. The scrum, made is strong, especially in the centre where Punt Davies has been doing very well. Ducas and Matheson are both good line plungers.

The Queen's second team is very heavy and a fairly strong aggregation, though the men could be in better condition. However, McEvenue's men are ready for the game and will make any team travel the limit to defeat them.

The star of the Queen's team is Martin who is playing on the half line. He is an old Ottawa College player and will bear careful watching by the McGill men to-day.

The teams will line-up as follows:

Queen's II.
Abbott ... Flying wing ... Cook
Fawcett ... Half back ... Smith
Buckley ... Quarter ... Martin
McCall ... Quarter ... Edwards
Armour ... Quarter ... Box
McCluskey ... Scrim ... Putnam
Davies ... Scrim ... Raitt
Fraser ... Quarter ... McCormick
Brown ... Inside wing ... Lamb
Maygar ... Quarter ... Kennedy
Matheson ... Middle wing ... Pierre
Ducas ... Quarter ... Grant
Smith ... Outside wing ... Sinn
Pennock ... Quarter ... Hazy

Spare—McGill: Ribadeneyra, Rounthwaite, Belanger, Willscroft, H. Ross, Dawson and W. Ross; Queens: Freda, Hara and Milan.

The game will start about half-past ten. The officials will be Sine McEvenue and some Queen's men.

SUNDAY SINGS TO BE RESUMED AT HALL

The first of the Sunday night "Sings" at Strathcona Hall will be held to-morrow evening at 9:30 o'clock. The meetings are of a very informal nature, a few fellows gathering around the fire in the reading room. Hymns are sung and light refreshments served. This year new hymn books have been secured, as the old ones were getting almost sung to pieces. These sings have always been a feature of the Sunday programme at the Hall, and the Secretaries are anticipating ever greater success this year. The sings will be held regularly every Sunday evening throughout the winter.

NOTRE DAME TEAM HITTING FAST CLIP

A press notice from Notre Dame University indicates that that institution will display a championship football team this season. Coach Harper of Notre Dame predicts that his school will be in the conference within the next two years. Conference rules will be observed this season by placing a freshman team in the field.

Notre Dame stepped into the limelight in 1909 when it defeated the University of Michigan on the gridiron. The squad is more promising than ever this year.

Notre Dame will go to Texas this season, and will be the attraction for the Thanksgiving game with the Longhorns on Clark Field. This will be the first time an Indiana eleven has ever come this far South, and the trip will attract national-wide comment in football circles.

SINE McEVENUE,

The man who has been devoting much time and effort towards perfecting the second team.

RUGGER TEAM PLAY FIRST MATCH TO-DAY

Large Turnout Yesterday—The Names of Men to Play This Afternoon

This afternoon, at three o'clock, the McGill English Rugby football team will play their first league game against the English team on the English rugby grounds.

Considering the short time, about a week, that the men have had to practice the team has developed extremely well. Yesterday a long final practice was held on the small campus. Particular stress was laid on the "scrim" and the ball was heeled out in snappy order. Passing out to the wings also showed considerable improvement. The back field, which was the weakest spot, has been strengthened very much and is now in good shape.

Yesterday, for the first time, the men showed up in their new uniforms and presented a very smart appearance.

Out of the 17 names in the following list 15 men will be chosen to represent McGill this afternoon. Forwards, Irving, Twinborne, Ripley, Murray, Miller, Ross, Russell, Hunter, Fitz-Henry, Grant, Sullivan, and Brown. The halves are Yeo, Pearce, Nugent and Clark and the three-quarters are Capt. Busby Tooley, Des Brisay, Hyslop and Shannon. Eight other McGill men who may not have a chance to play this afternoon will, however, go with the team and play for the Harlequins against the United Banks. These men, who are new at the game, will have an excellent opportunity of putting themselves on a level with the regulars and thus have a much better chance for the team. Last week Capt. Busby made a plea for the use of the big campus, on certain afternoons at an hour that will be convenient but, unfortunately, so far nothing has been accomplished. Those wishing to see the game this afternoon should take a Windsor-Montreal West street car to the grounds, which are just beyond the Windsor Park grounds, on the left.

BEWARE OF SPECIALIZATION SAYS MR. BENSON TO DAILY

Famous Actor Advises on Literature—Tells Story of his Advent to the Stage

The following interview was obtained by a McGill representative from Mr. F. R. Benson. It is presented in the journalistic, but more intelligible manner of the first person.

Mr. Benson's views are here well expressed, and should prove of particular interest to McGill men in view of the interest Mr. Benson has taken in the University.

We were told that, for the moment, Mr. Benson was engaged and was invited to rest and smoke until such time as he might be free. But indeed it needed no telling; in the garb of Petruccio, amid the well-ordered confusion of scene shifting, Mr. Benson stood receiving congratulations from an exchanging pleasantries with a group of admiring friends.

One by one they bade adieu and disappeared through the forest that flourished between stage and audience. Two ladies, however, lingered at the risk of incurring our grave displeasure. A passing electrician briefly and curtly informed us that one of the two, who stood in such imminent peril, was Mrs. Piske.

At length when the umbrage of paint and canvas had engulfed the last retreating figure, we found ourselves face to face with Petruccio and Mr. Benson.

In his dressing room, while he disrobed and removed his make-up, he talked. We had intended to present certain questions and had our points carefully arranged in questions slip-something or other, and as for ordered sequence—well, Mr. Benson regards it not.

Throughout it all there kept recurring to us the illuminated Shakespeare with lightning flashes. For so too does Mr. Benson seek to illuminate the topics of the moment. Darting from point to point, with scintillations of shrewdness and flashes of wit, while bewildering, he seeks ever to pierce to the heart of his subject, to reach the kernel of reason or truth and in so far as is possible, to disregard the wrappings of husk. To him life is a series of compartments to be separated and tabulated (a) Art; (b) Agriculture, it is a unity and a perfect whole. Art and agriculture may, he must interlocked, interwoven and inseparable. Why, then, should one not find in discussing the former, stimuli to shift one to the latter or, in the latter stimuli to refer one to the former?

Nevertheless the very wealth of Mr. Benson's conversation—and it is spangled with gems that one would wish to seize and treasure—renders it difficult to discriminate and choose.

After stating that he considered that the newspaper representatives of Montreal had shown an understanding of and appreciation for his ideals and endeavors, surpassing like faculties exhibited by brethren of the quill in any other city he had visited, he recounted the circumstances that led to his entrance upon the stage.

As an Oxford undergraduate, while playing in the "Agamemnon" of Aeschylus, given in the original Greek, he attracted the attention of Sir Henry Irving and was advised to consider the stage as a profession. Two years later he began his stage career by playing the rather portentous role of Paris in Irving's revival of Romeo and Juliet.

"At first," said Mr. Benson, "I held rather wild ideas and dreamed foolishly."

FRESHMAN RULE ABOLISHED AT U. OF T.

Players Must Now Conform to Certain Academic Standards

Toronto, Oct. 10.—The following statement has been issued by the Athletic Directors of the University of Toronto, with regard to the "Freshman Rule," which debar students in their first year from participating in senior intercollegiate contests.

In consequence of representations made to the Directors by many representative athletic bodies, the Directorate has been compelled to re-open the question of maintaining the Freshman Rule. Much adverse criticism has been expressed by different representative bodies connected with the University on the ground that the rule imposes undeserved penalties upon individuals and casts a stigma on the Freshman year as a whole. And further, because an adequate provision has been made for senior freshmen players in certain lines of athletics. In consequence of this agitation it has been found that an undue strain has been placed upon the loyalty of the various athletic club executives, and the Directorate after full consideration and after discussion with the Advisory Board of the Association, proposes to substitute fresh regulations for the existing rule.

These rules will not be ready for publication until they have undergone further detailed consideration; but, in the principle that it is proposed to put into operation, is that instead of penalizing all freshmen any undergraduate of whatsoever standing will be suspended from senior athletic contests in the University if he fails to satisfy the academic tests and requirements imposed by the University in his academic course.

POPULAR MCGILL GRAD SAILS FOR CANADA

Mr. Henry Morgan Returning From Summer Abroad

Mr. Henry Morgan of Arts '13, and last year president of the Arts Undergraduate and of the Daily, sailed from Liverpool yesterday on his way home. Mr. Morgan has spent the summer travelling in Europe. He will not be back at McGill this year as he plans to enter the firm of Henry Morgan and Company, Limited, departmental store. He graduated last year with Honors in History and English, and was one of the most popular men known at McGill in recent years.

dreams. Possibly these were due to the over-zeal and limited vision of youth, but in one direction at least my impractical ideas were endorsed by Mr. Irving himself. Of these, one, which received his cordial approval, was the idea of creating a company out of the better class of college-trained men; something that I soon found to be impossible of accomplishment, for the reason that your academic man is over trained and over critical. I have since learned that one must gather dramatic talent from all walks of life, from wherever it makes itself apparent and is available.

Moreover, I soon learned that long runs and over-specialization in parts was to be avoided as a plague. I have heard Irving himself say that he was unable to have his ideas carried out because the younger school of actors lacked versatility and were over-specialized.

Go to the provinces, I say, play everything, learn your trade, to act, to go through your part though the scene-shifters be on strike, the leading lady drunk, and the theatre on fire. When you have passed through that school, you will know your art, that if you are capable of ever knowing it."

Over-specialization in other things as well as in acting is, to Mr. Benson, a thing to be avoided. Indeed it is only in the absolute abandonment of the over-specialization and intense individualism of the day that safety for society is to be found. The Athenian, the man of self-poise and balance of mental and physical fitness who is poet, soldier and citizen, and by the merging of overweening individualism in a common reverence and love for the true and beautiful.

One question we did venture to ask Mr. Benson—Who among English authors of to-day he considered ranked highest according to the standards set by the masters of drama. To this we received no direct reply.

Galsworthy, Mansfield and Shaw he considered as working strongly on the thought of the day and being rich in the beauty of poetry, but by the very force of their immediate appeal rather overshooting the mark of art and depriving themselves of the hope of longevity's dramatic forces. "Though," he added, "they will always be read for their literary excellence." Here, again, is to be detected the cloven hoof of over-specialization.

"The fault of these authors," said Mr. Benson, "is that they concentrate too much. They possess too strong and apparent a purpose and, as artists, it is not for them nor for us to say, this is right or 'this is wrong' only, this is life as it has been, as it is, and as it may be if you will have it thus, or otherwise."

Meanwhile, on the stage, without two contending armies, recruited from the Old Brewery and the Bread-Line, marched and fought at the bidding of a lean and weary Falstaff, their left hands holding to their breast feely protective, and disreputable "hides" while their right, drenched and wielded imaginary swords.

We passed out into the air, with the lusty cheers of the victors, ringing in our ears.

"Well, maybe you'll remember of marrying a couple of strangers at your church a month ago?"

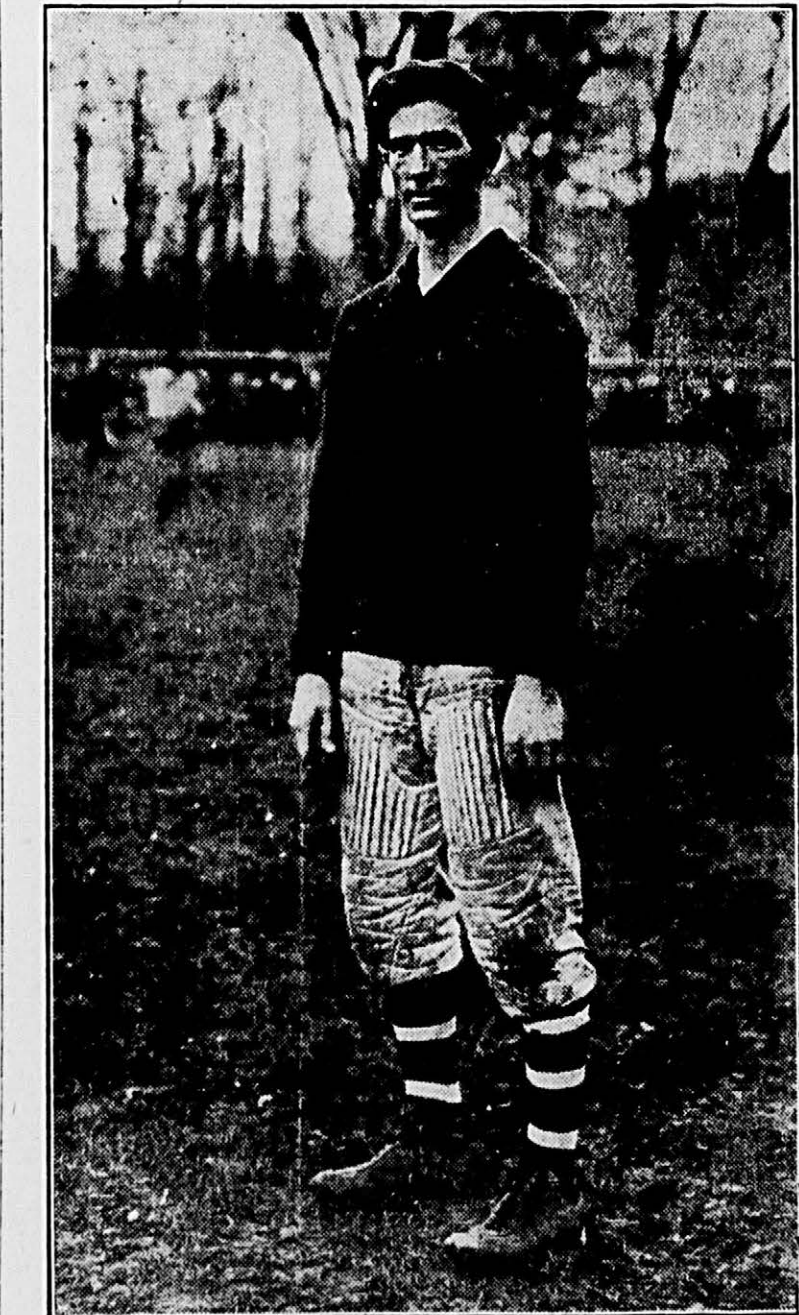

"What were the names?" asked the clergyman.

"Peter Simpson and Eliza Brown," replied the woman, "and I am Eliza Brown."

"Are you, indeed?" said the minister. "I thought I remembered seeing your face before, but—"

"Yes," interrupted the visitor, "I'm her all right, and I thought as how I ought to drop in and tell you that Peter's escaped!"

The Coach whose team starts on the road to another championship to-day.

CITY'S MARK ON AUTOS NOT LARGE ENOUGH

Those automobiles owned by the city and used by the different departments to facilitate the carrying-out of the work are again getting on the nerves of the aldermen.

But a short while ago it was ordered that it should be plainly marked on the autos that they were the property of the city, and to comply with this the monogram of the city was duly painted on the cars.

The objection is now made that these monograms are not conspicuous enough to catch the eye of every passing citizen, and also that their smallness permits them to be easily covered up.
